

Caring for Healthy Infants

The Partnership shares practical information about infant health and development with mothers, fathers, and caregivers.

Bridging the gap between families and healthcare providers, the Partnership offers free services to build a healthier future for New Jersey communities.

The Partnership is a community-based nonprofit organization, established in 1992, to improve the physical and mental health of women and children throughout northern New Jersey.

Education, Empowerment & Expertise...

Having Healthy Pregnancies

With expertise in medicine, nursing and social work, our public health organization encourages women to seek prenatal care and promotes healthcare for children.

Working together with local hospitals & healthcare providers, we empower families to be active partners in their healthcare.

Growing Healthy Minds

The Partnership educates communities through their local libraries, childcare centers, and schools to increase access to healthcare and promote health.

Helping Families Succeed

Recognizing the amount and evolving nature of information needed by parents, the Partnership offers resources, support and advocacy to help families succeed.

Fathers play an important role in their children's development. By hosting groups for fathers, the Partnership helps to strengthen the family unit.
